Dear Friends:

Dakshana successfully completed its 8th full year of operations in 2014. Since inception in 2007, the IITs have accepted 888 Dakshana Scholars (out of a total universe of 1715 Dakshana Scholars) – a success rate of 51.8%. Not too shabby – considering that the IITs accept under 2% of applicants. In 2015, out of 427 Dakshana Scholars who were prepared for the test, 230 made it – a success rate of 54%. In addition, 65 scholars who attempted the IIT entrance test for a second time in 2015 were successful.

It is the rare non-profit that focuses on measuring its social return on investment and effectiveness. Without these measurements, it is virtually impossible to build a scalable non-profit that delivers great bang for the buck. Many non-profits would argue that it is virtually impossible for them to measure their effectiveness with cold, quantitative techniques. And they are right.

Invert. Always Invert!

- Charlie Munger

And that is why Dakshana flipped the problem on its head. Instead of picking a cause and then figuring out how to measure impact, from the outset Dakshana focused on causes where measurements would be a trivial exercise. Inversion works! Thank you Charlie!

It was helpful that I was naturally biased towards education for the impoverished in India. And education is, by definition, a metric-driven activity. Thus, Dakshana ended up with its focus. Every year when the IIT entrance exam results are out, all of Dakshana's senior management team and myself pour over the results carefully. And every year, we make meaningful course corrections. Results from the very frequent testing we do with the scholars can be manipulated. Faculty and coaching partners may "teach to the test" to make themselves look good. And students, knowing it does not affect admission to IIT, may not take it seriously. But when we get results from the annual IIT entrance tests, Dakshana has absolutely no control over it. And every scholar will have given it their best shot. It is pristine, independent gold-standard data.

It does take a full two years for us to get tangible data on the decisions we make on student selection, faculty selection etc. Two years is a long-time to get feedback, but the fact that the data is completely independent of Dakshana makes it invaluable. And now we have had the advantage of seven such full two-year cycles. With each passing year, we learn more and tweek the model. It is quite a long ways from the model we began with in 2007. With Ananda Valley, the feedback will be available even faster – every twelve months.

A Tale of Three Cities – Bundi, Lucknow and Silvassa

While 54% of our scholars were accepted by the IITs in 2015, there is wide variance between our various coaching locations. At JNV Bundi in Rajasthan, 55 scholars were prepped in a jam packed classroom. Out of these 55, 50 were accepted by the IITs – a stunning 90% acceptance rate. This is not the first year Bundi has delivered such exceptional results. Since we partnered with Resonance in 2012, Bundi has always had approximately 90% success rates. Resonance is one of the largest IIT entrance exam coaching outfits in the country. They are headquartered just 18 miles away from Bundi (in Kota). Every year, Resonance coaches over 10,000 students for the IIT entrance exam. The best students tend to get assigned the best faculty. I suspect Resonance sends some of their rock star faculty to teach our Bundi students. In fact, the Founder/CEO of Resonance, Mr. R. K. Verma, is an IIT grad and one of the best Physics teachers for IIT prep on the planet. He personally makes the trek to Bundi periodically to teach our kids. We could never afford to buy this type of faculty.

We had also partnered with Resonance for coaching at JNV Lucknow. This year, out of 44 scholars at JNV Lucknow, just seven were accepted by the IITs. The success rate was an appalling 16%! But, this is not a fair apples to apples comparison. In Lucknow, there was a severe shortage of boys' dorms. Thus, Lucknow could only accommodate seven boys and the rest were girls. We reduced our cutoffs for the girls as a way to give girls preference and to "see what happens." Well, the seven boys were apples to apples similar to the Bundi boys. No discernable difference in the test scores. Out of the seven boys, just two were accepted by the IITs. So, while Bundi had a 90% success rate, the Lucknow boys had a less than 29% success rate. And for the girls, the acceptance rate was 5 out of 37, or just 13.5%. Out of the 37 girls, 11 had capabilities similar to the Bundi kids. Out of these eleven, just three were accepted by the IITs.

Resonance in Lucknow also taught the 2014 batch. In 2014, there were no accommodation issues and there were 50 kids placed at Bundi and a virtually identical 50 kids placed at Lucknow. Both batches were interchangeable. At Bundi, 45 out of 50 kids were accepted by the IITs. In Lucknow, just 32 out of the 50 kids were accepted by the IITs. We did not make any changes last year because we had no ready alternatives and a 64% success rate is not the end of the world.

There is another datapoint we got in 2015. The JNV system offered us a new location in Silvassa, which is about a three hour car ride from Mumbai. JNV Silvassa only had 40 girls' dorm spaces available. So, we could either run a 100% all-girls batch or nothing at all at Silvassa. Like Lucknow, in order to fill the seats, we had to significantly lower our cutoffs. We knew we would not get great results at Silvassa, but we were willing to give it a shot to "get more data" and increase the lot of female engineers on the planet. These forty Silvassa girls looked virtually identical to the 37 Lucknow girls. The success rate at Silvassa was 47.5% versus 13.5% at Lucknow! It wildly exceeded our expectations. At Silvassa, our coaching partner is Rao Academy, which is a relatively small outfit. However, the Founder/CEO, Mr. Rao was very focused and committed to doing the best he could for the JNV Silvassa girls. The results speak for themselves.

So, we can triangulate on three sets of data:

1. Bundi vs. Lucknow in 2014
2. Bundi vs. Lucknow in 2015 (Apples to Apples; looking at the 18 scholars at Lucknow)
3. Silvassa vs. Lucknow in 2015

From the above dataset, it is clear that the Resonance faculty at Lucknow is significantly inferior in capability and commitment to the Resonance team at Bundi. We also have data from our very frequent quality assurance visits to all our locations. The Dakshana management team believes that "Resonance Lucknow just gave up on the girls" and that "Rao worked extremely hard with the Silvassa girls."

We have also known for a long time that the IIT coaching institutes have a very hard time delivering high quality coaching away from their main headquarters. In fact, we brought this up with Resonance management before we handed them Lucknow. We were assured by them that the "Resonance system" was standardized across their locations throughout India and that we would have no issues. Well, we did have issues.

Fool me once, shame on you. Fool me twice, shame on me!

- Randall Terry

In mid-2014, Dakshana brought on seven of our alums as faculty. They were sent to Patna to be trained under Anand Kumar (of Super 30 fame). These IIT/NIT grads are bright and highly motivated. They are passionate about teaching and want to make a difference. We have based three of them at JNV Lucknow and terminated the services of Resonance at Lucknow. We will have very clear data in the next 1-2 years as we get IIT entrance exam results on the sensibility of this decision. I am optimistic that this team initially will do no worse than Resonance from the get go and deliver Resonance Bundi type results in a few years. It is a sea change moment for Dakshana. The sixteen year olds we took on in 2007 and 2008 are now teaching the kids who have joined us in 2015!

I think of these annual reports as chapters of an unfinished book. It is best to start with the first chapter – 2007's annual report. You can view it at www.dakshana.org/AR07.pdf. Electronic PDF copies of all the annual reports are available at www.dakshana.org/ARep.asp. Alternatively, you can email me at mpabrai@dakshana.org and I'll mail you a hardcopy. For brevity, I'll assume that the reader has already read the earlier annual reports and perused our website.

In these annual reports, I have taken an atypical approach of not including detailed financials. This has been done for readability and saving a tree or two. US foundations are required to file a form called the "990-PF" with the IRS every year and the IRS makes these filings public. We provide a link to these public filings on our website (www.dakshana.org/about_us/financials.asp). The Form 990-PF is filed in May of each year for the preceding year and it provides all the detailed financials.

Had we not bought Ananda Valley, we'd have ended the year with over $8.4 million in liquid assets – an all time record. The Ananda Valley purchase for $10 million is a risky bet made by Dakshana. There are plenty of challenges associated with it. However, it also allows some interesting optionality and possibilities. And instead of all eggs in one basket, we now have all eggs in two baskets. Before the Ananda Valley purchase, Dakshana was stuck in the mud. We were basically spending about $1 million a year, while our inflows exceeded $3 million a year. The cash was piling up. Now we are in the exact opposite situation. We ended 2014 with $3.2 million in liquid assets and about $5 million in debt on the Ananda Valley purchase. We intend to completely pay off the debt over the next 2-3 years.

Ananda Valley

Last year's annual report covered Ananda Valley in some detail (all our past annual reports are available on our website – www.dakshana.org) and I'd suggest reading the 2013 annual report for background. Everything related to land and property transactions is ultra-complicated in India. The conversion of land from agricultural zoning to non-agricultural zoning is non-trivial – especially when we are talking about something in excess of a hundred acres. Further, at every step of the way, there are multiple government approvals required.

Each of these local and state government agencies is rife with corruption. Since buyers and sellers are eager to close deals, they simply consider these payments like a land transfer tax. It is the normal modus operandi to pay these bribes and move on. At Dakshana, since inception in 2007, we have never and will never pay a bribe. All our files routinely get stuck – or get sent to the bottom of the stack. Some bribes at the village level are as low as $4. We get perplexed looks when we refuse to pay even these paltry bribes.

Invariably, our only recourse is to apply pressure from the top. Thankfully, there are a few senior IAS officers who are familiar with Dakshana and willing to go to bat for us. I am truly amazed that while we have encountered endless delays, we've never gotten to a total dead-end. There is always a risk that this may happen in the future. Dakshana's perspective is quite simple. We aren't in this for the "greater good." We would rather cease all operations than pay even $1 in bribes as a way around a dead-end.

You would be surprised at how much of our senior management time goes into getting these myriad government approvals. Our CEO and COO have spent countless hours waiting to see a government official where our file is stuck, only to be told after waiting for a few hours, "…come tomorrow." And when they go the next day and the day after, it is the same reply. The officials wait for us to offer them something to move things along. When that does not happen, it costs Dakshana very dearly. The opportunity cost of our senior management spending time in this way is staggering. And nearly all of it is tied to Ananda Valley. We have several years of cajoling and approval ahead of us. And many thousands of hours of precious senior management time to be lost in the years ahead.

I told them that they would be a failure if they didn't have some failures. I mean, if they just did safe things — you know, anybody can do that. So I want them to fail. For those of you who are familiar with baseball, I wanna judge them more by slugging percentage than batting average.

- Warren Buffett's message to the Gates Foundation and his three kids on how to approach philanthropy.

Warren Buffett is a huge baseball fan. He used to own a minor league baseball team in Omaha and he thinks investors and philathropists can learn plenty from the game of baseball. Hence, his extensive use of baseball analogies when explaining concepts related to value investing or effective philanthropy. The "batting average" in baseball is the ratio of hits to balls pitched to a given batter in the strike zone. An excellent batting average would be .400 i.e. getting a run generating hit 40% of the time.

Slugging percentage treats different kinds of hits differently. A single is worth one point, doubles-2, triples-3 and homeruns-4. The points are added and then divided by the number of good strike zone pitches. The slugging percentage could be over .700 or even over 1. Basically, a high slugging percentage is quite unlikely unless one swings for the fences.

In many ways, the approach used by great value investors to deliver exceptional results is in stark contrast to the best way to approach running a non-profit. Value investing is all about the minimization of risk.

> Rule Number 1: Do not lose money.
> Rule number 2: Do not forget Rule Number 1.
> - Warren Buffett

Great value investors look to make bets where the downside is almost non-existent and the upside is quite attractive. Warren Buffett has encouraged the folks entrusted with giving away his billions to take the exact opposite approach. He wants them to swing for the fences – repeatedly. And, he is perfectly fine if they fail frequently. In fact, he is measuring their success by frequency of failures – the more the better! Doing great work in charity is all about skipping the singles and trying to change the trajectory of humanity by focusing on home runs.

Dakshana has always been very willing to fail – and repeatedly swung for the fences. When we started in 2007, we had no experience in education or running a non-profit or operating a charity in India or working with the Government of India. There were a hundred ways we could have failed. And that is still the case today. It did not deter us then and does not deter us today.

Ananda Valley is our biggest swing for the fences so far. There are a zillion ways the Ananda Valley project can fail. A zillion ways we can lose $10 million or more, which would really hurt Dakshana. But it also holds the promise to truly transform the lives of well over a thousand families every year. And the kids who go on to IIT from Ananda Valley will no doubt file patents, create great businesses and improve the lot of humanity in unpredictable, but exciting ways. That is what makes it a no-brainer!

Direct Scholar Expenses

In 2014, we spent $1,326,468 on the Dakshana Scholar Program and related corporate overhead. In addition, T.I.M.E donated about $91,000 in JEE coaching services. Also, Seneca Global and Abhay Bhagat donated IT and accounting services worth $2,000, bringing the real total to $1,419,468. Of this amount, $1,081,703 was spent directly on the Dakshana Scholar JEE Coaching Program and $337,765 comprised of our corporate overhead. Let's examine the scholar expenses in a bit of detail.

During 2014, we delivered the equivalent of 689 scholar years of coaching at an average cost of $1,570/year or $3,140/scholar. The more accurate number is $2,175/scholar, which excludes construction and Ananda Valley purchase expenses.

Table 2. Dakshana Scholar Cost Data

Year	Cost/Scholar	Scholar Years
2007	$3,650	176
2008	$3,085	524
2009	$2,100	356
2010	$1,922	270
2011	$4,337*	219
2012	$2,553	398
2013	$2,450	576
2014	$2,870	689

$1,904 without construction

Corporate Overhead Expenses

Our corporate overheads in 2014 of $337,765 made up about 24% of our outlays. This seems extraordinarily high relative to the spending on the scholars. It is high, but unlike many other foundations, the Dakshana Scholar program is a direct program run by Dakshana. Many of these so called "overhead expenses" are actually core to the program. For example, when our staff makes frequent trips to the various JNV campuses, they are classified as overhead, but they are 100% focused on ensuring program and scholar success.

We typically do not make grants to other non-profits. We run these very labor and management intensive programs ourselves. With staff and scholars spread across nine remote locations in India, the logistical overheads and costs are quite significant. It does involve considerable travel, infrastructure and staff to execute. Also, it is hard to cut overheads below a baseline. Nonetheless, as we scale up our scholar base, we do expect the overhead expenses to become smaller portions of the pie.

Our fully loaded cost (including corporate overhead and excluding construction) was $2,395 /scholar in 2014 which is slightly higher compared to $2,301 in 2013. For the forseeable future, a good rule of thumb for Dakshana is to assume direct scholar expenses in the $2,000-2,500 range and overhead expenses in the $250 to $500 range, leading to a $2,250 to $3,000 fully loaded cost per scholar. We'll be able to amortize the construction and Ananda Valley expenses more accurately after we reap some of the benefits. For example, Dakshana has spent over $400,000 on the Charles T. Munger Hall, but the first batch will start only in 2015 or 2016.

The Cost to Produce an IITian

While the direct and overhead costs to support a scholar matter, it is the cost to produce an IITian that is the real benchmark that matters. It is the report card on how effective our spending and give back endeavors truly are.

Table 3. Dakshana Scholar Cost Data

Year	Direct Avg. Cost/Scholar	Corp. Overhead Cost/Scholar	Total Avg. Cost/Scholar	Percentage getting to IIT*	Cost to get a scholar to IIT
2007	$3,650	$1,320	$4,970	0%	NA
2008	$3,085	$828	$3,913	34%	$11,500
2009	$2,100	$382	$2,482	38%	$6,500
2010	$1,922	$232	$2,154	58%	$4,200
2011	$4,337	$580	$4,917	77%	$6,400
2012	$2,553	$367	$2,920	52%	$5,700
2013	$2,450	$339	$2,789	75%	$3,700
2014	$2,870	$490	$3,360	54%	$6,200

*next year

It used to cost Dakshana over $11,500 at the outset to get one scholar to IIT. This improved dramatically over the years – all the way down to $3,700 in 2013. I fully expect this all-in cost number to settle down at under $5,000 as we scale up.

Dakshana's Financial Health

From the outset, Harina and I have committed to give 2% of our net worth to Dakshana every year as long as our net worth exceeds $50 million at the end of any given year. Based on this formula, the amounts expected to give and actually given are as follows:

Table 4. Mohnish Pabrai and Harina Kapoor - 2% of Net Worth vs. Actual Giving

	Expected To Give	Actual Giving	Difference
2006	$ 1,067,983	$ 577,420	$ (490,563)
2007	$ 1,302,924	$ 3,355,350	$ 2,052,426
2008	$ -	$ 106,491	$ 106,491
2009	$ -	$ 69,450	$ 69,450
2010	$ 1,168,983	$ 345,064	$ (823,919)
2011	$ -	$ 1,044,480	$ 1,044,480
2012	$ 1,084,215	$ 200	$ (1,084,015)
2013	$ 1,511,701	$ 820,710	$ (690,991)
2014	$ 1,526,951	$ 3,404,487	$ 1,877,536
Total	$ 7,662,757	$ 9,723,652	$ 2,060,895
Excess Given:		$ 2,060,895

The Ananda Valley purchase needed us to "step up to the plate," which Harina and I were happy to do. We've now contributed about $2 million in excess of our commitment. We'll adjust this in the years ahead.

Dakshana's Wonderful Family of Donors

We had over $1.65 million in donations from our generous donors, with the Watsa family contributing C$1.14 million. Every dollar matters and we are very grateful to our wonderful group of patrons.

I am pleased to report that these gifted funds were used to buy books, improve scholar nutrition, create/improve classroom and dorm infrastructure, pay for coaching services for our scholars and even fund a part of the Ananda Valley purchase. Harina and I are grateful to our patrons for their generosity and wisdom.

And now, it's time for a short commercial break. With the home runs we are trying to hit, our needs are enormous. We need your support now more than ever before. Please make a gift to Dakshana by clicking/typing in this link:

http://www.dakshana.org/donate/donate.asp

We accept all major credit cards and Paypal. You can also send us a check (in US dollars or Canadian dollars or Indian rupees). And your gift is fully tax deductible. We can also set up automatic recurring monthly charges to your credit card. $99 a month for 24 months fully supports one scholar. You can even pick the scholar you'd like to support and we can arrange for interaction and meetings.

Investment Gains

Unless donor funds are specifically designated by the giver to go into the Dakshana Endowment or given as part of our various auctions, they are kept in cash/money market and are spent throughout the year on various direct scholar expenses. We ended 2014 with about $125,000 of such donor funds in cash/money market. Contributions to Dakshana's Endowment usually get invested in equities and about 5% of the endowment account value at year end is spent on scholar expenses.

Funds given by the Pabrai Family, Dakshana's Endowment or funds donated as part of the auctions are usually invested in public equities. We ended 2014 with about $3.1 million invested in a few public equities. Our realized and unrealized gains in 2014 were about $800,000. It is a wonderful result.

The Dakshana Endowment

In 2013, at the suggestion of Ruyintan "Ron" Mehta, we started the Dakshana Endowment. Dakshana's donors now have a choice. They can designate their contributions to be used immediately on our Dakshana Scholar program or it can go into the endowment. Funds in the endowment are slated to be invested in a highly concentrated manner. And at the end of every year, 5% of the endowment's value is spent towards the Dakshana Scholar program.

Ron seeded the endowment with a generous $50,000 contribution. The cost to support one scholar is approximately $2500 and Ron figured that right off the bat, the endowment would be able to fully support at least one new scholar completely every year.

We also directed all the proceeds from the various auctions to the endowment. I am very pleased to report that we received over $200,000 in endowment funds in 2014. We estimated (and slightly underspent) our expected 5% and will fix that in 2015. The good news is that the endowment is off to a robust start and is already able to support at least eight scholars a year into perpetuity. I fully expect that the endowment will support a growing number of scholars every year. And donors now have the choice to designate their contributions to go either towards current scholar support or the endowment.

Ebay Lunch Auction

The winner of the lunch auction in 2014 was Ray Faltinsky. His winning bid was $36,200. Ray put together "Team San Diego" (Willy, Mike, Alex, Ray and Ron) and, instead of giving $36,200, they significantly topped it off to $102,000! Then we got an email from Brandon Cohen in Florida, who asked if he could get a seat at the table for $25,000. Ray generously agreed and we had a terrific lunch at The Inn at Rancho Santa Fe in San Diego County, California. The 2014 lunch auction generated $127,000 in proceeds – all of which went into the endowment.

We also decided to do an annual conference call auction. The difficulty with the lunch auction is that meals can only take place in limited geographies. The conference call format allows anyone from anywhere on the planet to bid and participate. The winning bid was $12,800 which was generously rounded up to $15,000 by the winner who wishes to remain anonymous. The phone call was then shared with the University of Auckland Investment Club ("UAIC") and we enjoyed a great phone conversation with Jasjit Grewal, Ben Wedd, Sam Walsh, Joel Surges and Foss Shanahan in Auckland, New Zealand. I enjoyed my banter with the kids down under. It was wonderful to see the conference call go global right off the bat.

Our fifth annual lunch/conference call auctions will be held in October/November 2015 on Ebay. In the true spirit of market-driven auctions, the bidding will start at $0.01 for both, with no minimum. The lunch auction winner will get my not-so-old wallet as well. It is rumored that there may be a stock tip in there (again with no reps and warranties). As an aside, I do know that the 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014 auction winners did act decisively on the little notes in the wallets they received. I suspect they will bid again. But folks, please don't make it easy for them. Your mission in life is to make the final winner truly pay up.

The guidelines remain the same. The winner can bring up to 7 folks with him/her. The lunch will take place anywhere in Southern California or New York, or in any of India's metro cities, or another mutually agreeable alternate location. Anything is fair game to discuss, except specific stocks. Of course, you can ask about the stock tip. And I'll personally pick up the tab.

The conference call auction is designed to level the playing field. Anyone can bid on Ebay. The call, which will be arranged at a mutually agreeable time can have up to 7 participants. I will give a stock tip on the call (with no reps or warranties!) and will answer any questions related to that stock tip (or anything else the participants would like to discuss). The only topic off limits at both auctions is discussions on any current portfolio holdings (other than the stock tip).

"The Warren" Rug Auction

We are out of Charlie Munger busts, but a well wisher of Dakshana recently dropped off a brand new "Warren Buffett/Berkshire Hathaway" rug that was commissioned by Nebraska Furniture Mart in 2014. I would guess it was made by Shaw Carpets (a Berkshire subsidiary). It is a beautiful 6 ft. x 4 ft. rug with the likeness of Warren Buffett and the 2013 Berkshire stock chart on it. We will auction off the rug in November as well and ship it anywhere in the world.

The Charles T. Munger Hall

I feel like a broken record on the Charles T. Munger Hall. We originally proposed this to the government in 2010. It took more than 2 years but we eventually received approvals at the end of 2012. It has been nearly 3 years since we signed the Memorandum of Understanding with the government, but the buildings are finally nearing completion. The classrooms are ready now to host scholars. The dorms, dining room and labs (being built by the government) are receiving finishing touches. I am cautiously optimistic that Munger hall will be inaugurated no later than 2016. There is some chance we may be able to get it commissioned in 2015. All of it looks amazing. Hats off to Colonel Sharma and the folks at NVS/ CPWD (Central Public Works Dept.) for doing an excellent job. It is a facility for the ages – and one that I hope leads to the bending of the trajectory of the human race eventually.

2015 JEE Results

It is always instructive to look at our detailed JEE results. Here is a summary of our 2015 JEE results for the 427 scholars we selected in 2013.

The Team

The deal I have with Team Dakshana is that they do the work and I take the bows. Both parties have kept their end of the bargain. We are forever grateful to our CEO, Colonel Ram Sharma and our COO, Sharmila Pai. It is a difficult job which they execute with grace and a smile.

pūchhté haiñ vo ki 'Colonel' kaun hai koi Dakshana Scholar batlāo; nahin to DaaN member hi batlāéñ

Translation:

They ask who, after all, is Colonel?
Will any Dakshana Scholar tell them; Or maybe a DaaN member?

- Mirza Ghalib – slightly edited by Mohnish
(DaaN – Dakshana Alumni Network)

To keep the Ghalib purists from breaking out in hives, here are the original lines by the master poet:

> pūchhté haiñ vo ki 'Ģhālib' kaun hai
> koi batlāo ki ham batlāéñ kyā
> Translation:
> She asks who, after all, is Ghalib?
> Will someone tell her. Or will you force than upon me?
> - Mirza Ghalib

In August, 2015, when I visited various Dakshana locations, including Ananda Valley and The Charles T. Munger Hall in Bengaluru, it dawned on me that our operations have taken on a degree of complexity and financial commitment that is a huge step function from the past. Frankly, I question whether we have taken on far more than we should have. We do need to beef up our management depth and strength. It is not where it needs to be today, but I am hopeful we will be there soon. None of that will help with the very significant dependency on Colonel Ram Sharma. We have no Plan B. For his sake and ours, I wish him an ultra very long and healthy life. They just do not make 'em like Colonel Sharma. We are blessed!

Warmly,

Sept. 15, 2015   Mohnish Pabrai

DAAN-DakshanA Alumni Network

You can fully support one Dakshana Scholar for just US$3.25/day!

Over a two-year period, the cost of supporting a Dakshana Scholar is just US$3.25 a day. For less than a cost of a latte at Starbucks, you can lift a family from poverty permanently and get the scholar accepted by IIT.

Dakshana or you can identify the specific scholar you are supporting. We will acknowledge your gift on the scholar's profile. Dakshana's staff can arrange visits with the scholar at JNV as well. While the financial support would end after 2 years, the mentoring and guidance can continue for decades.

Dakshana will auto-bill your credit card once a month for US$99. This will continue for 24 months. After 24 months, you could choose to extend by selecting another scholar to support, if you so desire.

Dakshana Endowment

Dakshana also has an endowment account. You can select your gift to go into operating funds or our endowment. If endowment is selected, 5% of the balance every year will be moved to the operating account. Endowment funds are managed by Mohnish Pabrai and are invested in equities in a very concentrated manner. The endowment helps your dollars go further.
