I'd like to become a Dakshana Scholar and hopefully attend Engineering/Medical college because we are 7 members in our home and my cousin sister and brother are also in responsibility of my father. My father is only engaged in work. He is a lab teacher. My mother is a housewife. My father could hardly manage things for all the members of my house. My father had to pay high fees in my sister's school, they are studying in a private school. So, I want to become a dakshana scholar so that I may read very well there, and should attend every class, so that in my future I can become a good Doctor, later on an I.A.S officer, so that I may reduce the burden of my father of 8 members. And as we are 5 sisters and have no brother. I want to become good son of my father, and so I want to become a good and disciplined dakshana scholar.
